A large, complex, and somewhat abstract drawing, possibly a stylized face or a complex geometric shape, with multiple overlapping lines and a central vertical axis. The drawing is composed of several overlapping loops and lines, creating a sense of depth and movement. It appears to be a single continuous line drawing, though some lines are more prominent than others. The overall shape is roughly oval, with a central vertical axis and several horizontal and diagonal lines intersecting it. The drawing is done in a dark, possibly black, ink or paint on a light-colored background.
